How Exceptional is New York as an Immigrant City?

NOV. 30, 4:30 P.M., ADAMSON WING, BAKER HALL 136A
NANCY FONER, DISTINGUISHED PROFESSOR OF SOCIOLOGY

New York's remarkable ethnic and racial diversity, its immigrant history, and institutions have combined to make it a receiving city that, in many ways, is like no other in the United States. The talk focuses on how recent immigration has transformed the social construction of race and ethnicity and the nature of intergroup relations in New York City in what might be called a particular "New York way."

Milton and Cynthia Friedman Summer Internships in Washington, D.C

Application Deadline: Jan. 21, 2011

The Milton and Cynthia Friedman Internships in Washington, D.C., were created in 2000 through a generous gift from Cynthia Friedman, currently a trustee of the university, in memory of her husband, an alumnus of Carnegie Mellon. The grants encourage and support the participation of undergraduate and graduate students in policy-related internships located in the nation's capital.

All Carnegie Mellon undergraduates and graduate students from any college or school who have a strong academic record and would value the opportunity to spend a summer gaining first-hand policy experience in a public or private sector in Washington, D.C., are invited to apply. Graduating seniors are not eligible. Students are responsible for finding their own internships. <http://www.cmu.edu/govrel/friedman/index.html>
